

Saddle with handrail

Often this is the cheaper solution than no handrail as the glass specification requirement to be legally compliant is lower than with no handrail for systems with a potential fall height greater than 600mm.

Handrail always offer greater strength and security especially if one end can be fixed to a wall using a wall flange. Although optional we would recommend a handrail for any system 8m or higher for extra safety and security.